

*Unlocking Arabic Manuscripts:
The Potential of Digital Humanities for Egypt's Collections*
Workshop Agenda
Day 1

09:00	Reception & Registration
10:00	Official Welcome and Opening • Prof. Mohamed Kamal, Institute for Arab Research and Studies • Dr. Wiebke Bachmann, DAAD Cairo Regional Office • Mr. Hendrik Barkeling, German Embassy Cairo • Prof. Beatrice Gründler, Freie Universität Berlin
10:30	Coffee Break & Group Photo
11:00	Keynote Lecture Importance of Digitization and Institutional Rationale Prof. Sherif Shaheen, Sharjah Institute for Heritage
12:00	Lecture Digitization Challenges from the Manuscript Center Perspective Prof. Dr. Medhat Issa, Bibliotheca Alexandrina Manuscripts Center
13:00	Project Showcase Manuscript Digitization Projects on the Internet Dr. Amr Yahia, CULTNAT
13:30	Lunch break & Networking
15:00	Project Showcase Heritage Digitization Projects in Egypt and Germany Dr. Marwa Salem, Dar-ul-Kutub
15:30	Lecture How DH Can Deal with a Fluid Textual Tradition Prof. Dr. Dr. h.c. Beatrice Gruendler, Freie Universität Berlin
16:30	Coffee Break

17:00	Workshop From Manuscript to Digital Edition: AI-Supported Workflows for Arabic Textual Scholarship Marwa M. Ahmed, M. Eng., Freie Universität Berlin
18:30	End of Day 1

Day 2

09:00	Registration & Breakfast
10:00	Lecture Why One Manuscript Needs All the Others: The Case for a Unified Arabic Corpus Dr. Maxim G. Romanov, Universität Hamburg
11:00	Workshop Expanding the OpenITI Corpus through Scalable Automatic Text Recognition (ATR) Alicia Gonzalez, Universität Hamburg
12:30	Lunch
14:00	Lecture Digital Infrastructure for Discovery: The Role of Technology in Modern Manuscript Cataloguing. Dr. Jean Druel, OP, Institut dominicain des études orientales, Cairo
15:00	Coffee Break
15:30	Workshop Building a Transmission Archive: A Comparison of the Audition Certificates Platform and the Diamond Database Mr. Tamer El Gebali, Institute of Arabic Manuscripts (ALECSO)
17:00	Closing Remarks and Certificate Distribution Prof. Beatrice Gruendler, Freie Universität Berlin Dr. ElHassan ElSabry, Zewail City of Science, Technology & Innovation

By Invitation Only

17:30	Planning for Future Collaborative Projects (for core partners)
19:00	Departure from IARS
19:30	Group Dinner

Funded by

Federal Foreign Office

COSIMENA

Deutscher Akademischer Austauschdienst
German Academic Exchange Service